

I do not support further deregulation. While desirable to large companies it is unsafe for this country. Unrestrained capitalism devolves into tyranny by the few. This country is already too far that direction. The airways should not be ruled by the few for the few. It will place a lid on a kettle that is already too hot. I hope this decision isn't already bought and decided.